Dear colleagues,

The Belgian Society of Infectious Diseases and Clinical Microbiology (BVKIM/SBIMC), is proud to announce, in collaboration with the Belgian Society of Intensive Care (SIZ), a POP-UP Meeting on “Antimicrobial Therapy in Critically Ill Patients”.

The meeting will be held on February 8, 2023 at the Warwick Hotel, Rue Duquesnoy, 5, 1000 Brussels, Belgium (walking distance from the Central Station in Brussels).

The program will be as follows:

13:00-14.00	Walking Lunch
14.00-14.05	Opening and Welcome
14.05-14.35	Antibiotic Stewardship in 2022
14.50-15.20	How pharmacokinetic principles can help
15.35-16.05	New Antibacterial Drugs
16.05-16.30	Coffee Break
16.30 -17.00	Diagnostic and therapeutic challenges in fungal infections
17.15- 17.45	The Dark Side of Antibiotic Therapy
18.00	Conclusions

This meeting has been possible thanks to the support of Eumedica, Gilead, MSD and Pfizer. Target audience is both ICU physicians and ID specialists with a particular interest in critical care medicine.

The participation will be free of charge; however, as there is space only for 70 participants, we will ask you to contact the SIV's secretary (estelle.flament@isicem.org) to confirm your participation.

Best regards,

Maya Hites
