

SCIENTIFIC COLLABORATOR IGGI

The “Belgische Vereniging voor Infectiologie en Klinische Microbiologie – Société Belge d’Infectiologie et de Microbiologie Clinique” (BVIKM-SBIMC) is a non-profit organisation, founded officially in 1991 and gathers infectiologists, microbiologists and clinical pharmacists.

One of the aims of the society is to write guidelines for the treatment and prevention of infectious diseases. These have been compiled in an infectiology guide [“Infectiologiegids – Guide d’Infectiologie (IGGI)"] available (for a fee) to Belgian hospitals and individual doctors.

The coordination of the guide is led by the IGGI Steering Committee (SC), a working group of the BVIKM-SBIMC.

The BIVKM-SBIMC is now looking for an enthusiastic and committed IGGI scientific collaborator to join our team.

- Your role

- To scientifically assist the IGGI SC and its working groups [ad hoc groups composed according to the guidelines that must be reviewed]: review of the literature, participation in and coordination of the meetings of the SC and the working groups.
- To take care of the redaction-edition-correction of the IGGI contents (including the transition to a new format).
- To monitor the consistency of the guidelines throughout the whole guide.
- To regularly brief the BVIKM-SBIMC board and SC on the evolution of the update.

- Your profile

- Medical doctor, pharmacist or master degree in other healthcare professions with a special interest in infectious diseases.
- Some experience in Evidence Based Medicine.
- Mother tongue: Dutch or French. Fluent in English and the other country language.

- Offer.

- A half time job (18 hours a week) starting as soon as possible.
- Principally home-based job.
- A remuneration in accordance with the responsibilities related to this function.

- Application form

- CV and motivation letter
