

Future developments of IGGI

BVIKM-SBIMC Webinar
1 June 2021

Current IGGI (launched Q4 2017)

- Prevention and treatment of large set of infectious diseases in children and adults, different antimicrobials and pharmacological data
- Commitment to an update every 2 years
- Online guide, pdf files
- French and Dutch
- License
- A few active working parties (WP), working on update

Evaluation after 3 years

- Financially healthy (no loss)
- Useful and necessary
- Room for improvement
  - User friendliness:
    - Web form, tablet and app proof, improved search engine
  - Difficulties in gathering steering committee and WPs related to the important work load of the experts (and-but not only-the COVID-19 crisis)
  - Difficulties in fulfilling the promise of update
  - Absence of a transparent methodology used for the creation and/or update of recommendations

Future IGGI

- BVIKM-SBIMC acknowledges the need of a user-friendly, concise and preferably free antibiotic guide, if possible endorsed by the FOD Volksgezondheid/SPF Santé Public

- BVIKM-SBIMC acknowledges the need for improvement and update of the current guide:
  - Creating a functional steering committee (independent or under its wings~working party), composed of infectiologists, microbiologists and hospital pharmacists
  - Sustained (financial) support from partners such as the Belgian government (BAPCOC), Belgian Association of Hospital Pharmacists, scientific societies, Sciensano, KCE etc
  - Need for (funded) manpower, in particular a scientific collaborator managing the scientific aspects of IGGI
